

<https://www.coro.net/careers/senior-software-developer-windows-internals/>

Senior Software Developer – Windows Internals

Description

We are looking for an excellent, innovative, motivated and experienced Software Developer to take part in our client team.

Responsibilities

What will you do?

- You will code in C++, Golang (if willing to learn) and C#. And take part in development of cloud controllable state of the art AntiVirus application
- You will specialize in building our next generation Endpoint Security client applications for Windows. All of this while handling and understanding operating system internal working – like kernel processes, privilege levels etc
- You will get to deeply understand the needs of cybersecurity engineering

Qualifications

- 3+ years of experience with C++ programming for Windows
- 2+ years experience with Windows Internals
Knowledge and experience with C#
- BSc degree in Computer Sciences or equivalent education
- Design and analytical skills with extended troubleshooting capabilities
- Ability to maintain code at the highest quality and security level
- High level of communication skills in English – a must
- A team player

An Advantage

- Golang development
- Kernel drivers on Windows development – significant advantage
- Experience with PowerShell and Bash scripting
- Experienced in the cyber industry and in Security Products for Windows development

Hiring organization

Coro

Employment Type

Full-time

Job Location

Remote work from: Israel

Date posted

July 22, 2021